PEOPLE WILL TALK.

We may go through the world, but 'twill be very slow,
If we listen to all that is said as we go;
We'll be worried and fretted, and kept in a stew,
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do—
For people will talk, you know.

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed
That your humble appearance is only assumed;
Your a knave in disguise, or else you're a fool,
But don't get excited—keep perfectly cool—
For people will talk, you know.

If generous and noble, they vent yet their spleen!
You'll hear some loud hints that your selfish and mean;
If upright and honest, and fair as the day,
They'll call you a rogue in a sly, sneaking way;
For people will talk, you know.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or the least inclination to take your own part,
They'll call you an upstart, conceited and vain;
But keep straight ahead and don't stop to explain.
For people will talk, you know.

If threadbare your coat or old-fashioned your hat,
Some one, of course, will take notice of that,
And hint, rather strongly that you can't pay your way.
But don't get excited, whatever they say—
For people will talk, you know.

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape;
For they criticise then in a different shape;
You're ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid,
But mind your own business—there's naught to be made—
For people will talk, you know.

The best way to do is to do as you please,
For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease;
Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse,
But don't think to stop them; it ain't any use;
For people will talk, you know.

A Tornado in Montana.

From the Deer Lodge City (M. T.) New Northwest of April 22d we extract the following:

During the past three weeks there has been a succession of violent tornadoes in the valley, unpleasant as unprecedented. They last from one to three hours and are succeeded by a perfect calm. Their general direction is from northwest to southeast. The width of the storm-track is not over a mile, its greatest violence being confined to a belt of 200 or 400 yards, crossing the valley diagonally a short distance below town, and occasionally the side currents giving us a lively shaking up in the village notwithstanding the protection guaranteed us by the Organic Act and the Immigrant Association. The first two wasted their fury on fences, trees and moderated sized boulders, tossing them about like jackstraws, and just by the way of variety wrenched a couple of logs out of the Decker building in the lower end of town. But on Saturday last the third—and we most devoutly join our prayers with Mr. Elliott that it may be the last—of these cyclones, played a piece of diabolism not on the bills, and we believed unprecedented in the explorations of the Rocky Mountains. Mr. A. Elliott recently purchased the Hall farm, on Cottonwood Creek, a half mile from town. It has on it a double-log-house, one story, having a roof area of 17x40 feet. On it there is a dirt-roof. Elliot was engaged in re-roofing it with boards, and had it about completed on Saturday when the storm began. His son, a lad of a dozen years, was on one corner and he on the comb. As the whirlwind dipped he called to his son to jump down; and Elliot clasped the comb projection of the boards to prevent being blown to the ground. Just at the instant the entire roof, rafters and all, was lifted from the building, and rising with the whirlwind, sailed away, attaining an altitude of about forty feet at the greatest, and landing one hundred and eighty-nine feet from the house, where Elliot was dumped in the concussion; the roof performed a somersault over him and was scattered in a thousand fragments up the valley. Strange as it may appear Elliot is only slightly bruised. The lad was uninjured, the board roof gliding out from under him, leaving him sitting disconsolate on the dirt roof while his father was abandoning him at the rate of sixty miles an hour. When it is considered that the roof contained 1,200 feet of lumber, was nailed to heavy log rafters, and that the whole affair was carried one hundred and eighty-nine feet intact, some idea of the force of the whirlwind may be obtained.

SELECTIONS FOR NEWSPAPERS.—Most people think the selections of suitable matter for newspapers the easiest part of the business. How great an error. To look over and over fifty exchange papers daily, from which to select enough for one, especially when the question is not what shall, but what not be selected, is no very easy task. If every person who reads a newspaper could have edited it, we should have less complaints. Not frequently it is the case that an editor looks over his exchange papers for something interesting and finds absolutely nothing. Every paper is drier than a contribution box, and yet something must be had—his paper must be out with something in it, and he does the best he can. To an editor who has the least care in what he selects, the writing he has to do is the easiest part of his labor. Every subscriber thinks the paper is printed for his own benefit, and if there is nothing that suits him it must be—it is good for nothing. As many subscribers as an editor has, so many tastes he has to consult. One wants something very smart and very sound. One likes anecdotes, fun and frolic, and his next door neighbor wonders that a man of sense will put such stuff in his paper. Something spicy comes out, and the editor is a blackguard. Next comes something argumentive, and the editor is a dull fool. And so, between them all, the poor fellow gets the worst of it. They never reflect, what does not suit them, will please the many, but they insist that if the paper does not suit them, it is good for nothing, and stop taking it immediately.

THE HOME OF THE LATE LAMENTED.—"Revolutions never go backward," and yet something has "gone back" on the home of the late lamented—Springfield, Illinois, having elected the entire Democrat ticket on the 12th ult., by majorities ranging from one hundred to three hundred, and this, despite the fact, that three hundred negroes were herded to the polls in the Radical interest. What with this portentous occurrence right in the very odor of sanctity, and the further circumstance that there is a working Democratic majority in the Illinois State Convention now in session there, it would seem that the great moral revolution has pretty much about ceased to revolve in Springfield.

A Peep at Pompeii.

Looking at a village on the slope of Vesuvius, apparently as entire as if of recent erection, I was surprised to be told "that is Pompeii." Though aware how completely the greater part of the disinterred city had been exposed to the light of day, it somehow occurred to me that, seen from Naples, a distance of eleven miles, it would be thus distinctly apparent. The distance from which it was seen prevented us perceiving that the houses had no roofs, these having all been broken down by the enormous mass of ashes from Vesuvius, and by the heavings of the earthquake.

Pompeii is accessible by railway or by carriage from Naples. In order not to be hampered as to hours of arriving and departure, we hired a conveyance for the day, with the intention of lunching at Hotel Diomede, which is kept by a polite Frenchman, who informed us that he had only Italian enough to enable him to take money, which he seems to do with moderation, as he only charged a couple of francs for a bottle of excellent Lacryma Christi, made from a vine peculiar to the neighborhood of Vesuvius.

Arriving at the Herculaneum gate of Pompeii we were admitted by a turnstile, paying a franc for admission, and being consigned to the care of a custode, who is prohibited from taking any fee from visitors, but generally contrives to get something out of them from the sale of photographs. He is very sharp looking after them, so that they shall not pocket some of the smaller objects met with in the walk through the city.

The custode knowing no language but his own, conversation is very limited, unless the traveller happens to be familiar with Italian. To obviate the inconvenience, it is customary to hire in Naples "a commissionario, who speaks English with great intrepidity, and sometimes gives astounding information with a gravity truly ludicrous.

Having entered by the Herculaneum gate we are literally in a city of the dead; we are in "The Street of Tombs;" the highway on each side being lined with white marble tombs, perfectly clean and fresh, with the inscriptions and sepulchral designs quite legible and distinct. As I am not writing an antiquarian treaties, I shall only give a single translation of an inscription touching by its beautiful simplicity: "Farewell, most happy soul of Caia Oppia. We shall follow thee in such order as nature shall appoint. Farewell, sweetest mother."

But leaving the Street of Tombs let us enter Pompeii. The road at this point is wide, and paved with lava retaining the deep ruts made by the carriages. In other places, however, the streets are so narrow that for a vehicle to be turned in them must have been impracticable. They have, however, on both sides, raised a footpath for passengers, whose comfort is still further provided for by a frequent erection of stepping-stones, to enable them to pass dryshod from one side to the other, when the road happened to be flooded by a sudden fall of rain.

Near the gate is an inn, in the portico of which were discovered various coins, of personal ornaments, and in the court yard the remains of carriages and harness, and the skeleton of an ass. The houses are generally one-storied, but many have had two or three floors. The external walls are plain, with few openings to the street, as the private departments all look into an interior court, and are lighted from it. The flat roofs have all fallen in; but the walls being generally entire, and the rubbish having been completely removed, the appearance of the streets has not greatly suffered. The removal of rubbish from a small street was going on during our visit, but as it was lazily removed in hand-baskets, we could not help longing for a gang of English navvies with spades and wheelbarrows, to let the Italians see what excavating really is.

The honesty of the laborers seems very dubious, as a custode was constantly on the watch lest they should secrete for their own use any valuables which they may discover. Though nothing was found while we were present, yet in the house the excavation of which we witnessed, were discovered, with their gold and silver ornaments, a very handsome gold ring set with an amethyst intaglio of Abundance and various other objects of value. As perhaps a third part of the city is still to be investigated, it is very likely that further discoveries of interest will be made from time to time, and enable us still better to understand the domestic usages of the Romans.

In good houses there are a porter's lodge, a vestibule, a hall of public audience; and beyond, there is the inner court, round which are arranged the family apartment. This court is surrounded by porticos supported by columns, in the intervals between which are sleeping recesses, and the triclinium or place for reclining on at meals. In winter this was under the portico, and protected from the open air; but in summer it was placed beside the marble fountain, pond, or parterre for flowers, occupying the centre of the court. The really private rooms are few, but tastefully painted and adorned with articles of virtu. Warm and cold baths, rooms for servants, a little chapel for the household gods, and cellars below for storing-wine and oil completed the establishment of a Pompeian gentleman.

The floors of common houses even are paved with coarse mosaic in white and black marble; and Salve in black letters on a white ground, often salutes you, on crossing the threshold. Or, a dog couchant, with the less hospitable motto, "Cave canem,' warns none but good men and true to enter here. Possibly it may have been a benevolent hint to beware of a live dog, stationed there as a protection to a domicile so accessible to every passenger. The houses of the rich are paved with finer mosaics, representing hunting scenes, fruits, flowers, birds and beasts in their natural colors. The walls are divided into panels, with rich borders, painted with a great variety of objects, often of great merit in the execution, but too frequently very indicative in the subjects. Pictures, copies of which we brought home as specimens of this style of paneling, represent a naked charioteer driving a chariot drawn by geese and a scanty draped woman taking naked Cupids from a wicker basket, for the inspection of two ladies, beside whom stand a Cupid. As the latter picture was found in the Temple of Venus we may conclude that the woman and those whom she is visiting are not of the immaculate reputation.

The streets are regular, and where several meet there is a public fountain. Their names are legible; and the blank places on the walls are filled with gaudy pictures of the presiding deities, with electioneering notices, with amatory and indecent verses, with rudely scratched caricatures. Sometimes the scribbling on the interior walls and pillars of a dwelling refer to domestic matters, such as how much lard was bought, how many tunics sent to the wash, or when a child or a donkey was born.

The shops are mere open sheds below a dwelling-house, with a stone counter in front and a few shelves inside. The names and trades of their owners are legible, and the signs of their craft are conspicuous and sometimes very startling.

One of the best houses in the suburban villa which belonged to a wealthy citizen, Diomedes, whose family seems to have perished, for skeletons were found in the wine cellar, huddled together close to an aperture in the wall. They had sought this underground place of refuge, but the minute dust and sulphorous vapor suffocated them. The wine-jars, like eau-de-cologne bottles, but of unglazed earthenware, are still ranged against the wall, but instead of fine old Falernian, are filled to the brim with volcanic. In the garden which runs down toward the sea, two bodies were found, being probably those of two persons who in despair left their friends in the cellar, and endeavored to find their way to the beach. But it was too late. Through an atmosphere blacker than the deepest midnight darkness, and impregnated with suffocated vapors, there could be no advance; and so these, two unfortunates miserably perished, being unable to find the door of a smaller garden, as familiar to them as their bed-rooms. In the hand of one was a bunch of keys, and near them found silver vases and money dropped at last as worthless in the struggle for dear life. In the horrible darkness, the blind alone could have turned to advantage their habits of moving about without the aid of sight. In Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii" this circumstance is skillfully seized upon, and gives rise to the thrilling incident of the blind slave-girl's escape through a garden.

The most horribly interesting place in Pompeii is a room containing plaster-casts, made according to the ingenious process devised by Signor Florelli. The showers of pumice-stone by which Pompeii was overwhelmed were followed by streams of tenacious mud, which flowed over the interstices not filled by the pumice-stone. Objects thus encased were as if in a plaster mould; and when they happened to be human bodies their decay left a cavity in which their forms were perfectly preserved. Filling up these cavities with liquid plaster, Signor Florelli succeeded in obtaining admirable casts of human beings why had perished in the destruction of Pompeii. We thus can have a stereoscope of their death-agony. Two women, mother and child very probably, are lying feet to feet. The limbs of the elder are extended, her left arm hangs loosely and on her finger is a coarse iron ring. She seems to have died without a struggle. But the poor girl at her feet, with her legs drawn up convulsively, her hands clenched in agony, her face close to the ground, must have a terrific death.

We are struck by the limited dimensions of the private dwellings at Pompeii, the best of which seem to us models of fine houses, rather than handsome and comfortable abodes. But we understand the tastes of the people better on reaching the forums, baths, temples, theatres, and the amphitheatre, which for a third-rate provincial town, are in a style of luxury and magnificence truly surprising. It is clear that the Pompeians, favored with a delicious climate, lived abroad all day, and only supped and slept at home. The public buildings, round the civil and military forums, with their beautiful and airy porticos, filled with choice works of art, afforded ample space for exercise under cover; and a visit to the baths, the gymnasium, and the amphitheatre, enabled the luxurious Pompeian gentleman to pass the long summer day agreeably enough. The amphitheatre, outside the town, is an immense place; the circular rows of seats rising upwards from the level of the arena, and pierced with numerous places of exit for the spectators; the space for the gladiators, the dens for the wild beasts; are so entire, that it is not difficult to imagine the scenes there often enacted. One might here have witnessed the roar of wild beasts, the savage shouts of the multitude, the critical remarks of patrician amateurs and the consultation of Pompeian matrons, debating whether the attitude of the wounded gladiator deserved that they should raise their thumbs to save his life.

It is regretted that the relics of Pompeii could not be left where found, as seeing them there would have much enhanced their interest; but their removal to the museum at Naples has the advantage of enabling us to see collected together a great many of the objects which ministered to the daily life of the defunct inhabitants of Pompeii, Herculaneum and Sabile.

In some things they were primitive enough, but in others as artificial as ourselves; judging from the material of a lady's toilet, which comprehended rouge, false hair, teeth and eyebrows, as well as all that vanity could desire in the shape of perfumes, necklaces, earrings, bracelets, and brooches. But it must have been provoking to the fair one not to be able to see the general effect of her form and ornaments reflected in a large pier-glass. The mirrors are only small plates of polished metal, capable of showing more than an ugly woman might like to see, but less than a beautiful one desires. Under a glass case is a sad mingling of vanity and mortality; the skull and the impression of a youthful female bosom are mixed with a purse, necklace, and bracelets, taken from the body of a Pompein lady.

Here are all sorts of kitchen utensils, some of them containing the meal cooked on the day of the fatal catastrophe. There are loaves converted into brown masses, but retaining their shape and the baker's name; eggs, fruit, grains, honeycombs, &c. Inkstands forever dried up, styles and tablets never to be resumed, lie in mournful literary ease in company with a large collection of charred manuscript. Some of these have been unrolled, but no work of much merit has rewarded the toil of the classic antiquary.

If we would form a true idea of the moral condition of the Pompeians we must visit the reserved cabinet of the Museum, whose contents cannot be described further than to state that painting and sculpture have been lavishinly employed in embodying the obscenest ideas and depicting the most abominable habits. If our minds be filled with commiseration for the fate of Pompeii, we cannot resist the conclusion that much of what was buried deserved destruction; and that the graceful embellishments of its social life were allied with a moral depravity so profound as to make us thankful that we live in happier days.

HOW IT WORKS.—Every candid person, who will take the trouble to investigate the matter, must be satisfied that the law known as the Litigant Act, independent of party considerations, is a good one based upon correct principles and calculated to be of much public benefit. The chief objection urged against it is that it is a partisan measure. It is true that it was passed by the votes of Democrats, and that, in a majority of instances, Democratic journals will be benefited by it, but in a number of counties papers opposed to the Democratic party have been designated to do the printing. The following are some of them: Stockton Herald, Santa Cruz Pajaronian, Alpine Chronicle, San Mateo Gazette, Contra Costa Gazette, Shasta Courier, Trinity Journal, Butte Record and Sutter Banner. It will be seen from the foregoing that, by the operation of the law, the opposition journal s are getting a fair proportion of the printing. The great object sought to be attained is the publication of legal advertising in a designated paper, so that people will know where to look for them, and preserving a record of them for public inspection at the county seat. Whether the publication be made in Democratic or Republican journals the purpose of the law is subserved.—Solano Democrat.

ENGLISH LADIES EXPELLED FROM ROME.—A letter from the correspondent of the London Daily News at Rome gives an account of the expulsion from that city of three English ladies, under circumstances which are said to have excited a good deal of indignation against the Papal Government. On the 24th ultimo the ladies in question received a visit from three gendarmes and a police agent in private clothes, who made a thorough search of their lodgings. Two days afterward they received orders to quit Rome in twenty-four hours. Mr. Odo Russell and the English Consul, Mr. Severn, exerted themselves in the matter, and Cardinal Antonelli was communiceted with. The Pope himself was appealed to, but all in vain. At the expiration of forty-eight hours, a respite of twenty-four hours having been obtained, two of the ladies left Rome and went to Naples. The other was resolved not to leave until actually compelled. A rumor that the ladies had been engaged in distributing unauthorized Italian Bibles is contradicted, and no reason whatever for the expulsion appears to have been given. It is thought that the order proceeded from the Pope himself.

OF THE many tunnelling schemes now on foot few exceed in extent that which proposes the building of a railroad tunnel under the Detroit River, for the transit of the Great Western and Michigan Central Railroad cars. The Michigan Legislature has granted the necessary privileges on the American side, and the Canadian Parliament will doubtless act with equal liberality. The work is to consist of two distinct tunnels, fifty feet apart, this division being thought safer and more economical on account of the reduction it admits in the size of the bore and the amount of the excavation. The length of the tunnels from the Detroit to the Canada portal will be 8,568 feet. They will be cylindrical, with an interior or clear diameter of eighteen feet six inches, surrounded by a shell of brick masonry two feet thick under the bed of the river and one foot six inches thick under the bank on either side. Before building the main tunnels a smaller drainage tunnel of five feet diameter will be built between and considerably below the two main lines, so as to develop in advance the nature of the soil or material, and to drain the main tunnels while the work is progressing and afterward. The complete cost of the work is estimated at $2,650,000.

FAMINE IN JERUSALEM.—A letter has been received in London from the Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem, which corroborates the statement made on this painful subject by Sir Moses Montefiore. The Bishop, in his letter, says: "A small donky's load of water costs 6d. to the poor Jew, whose family income is 1s. 1d. per week. Many Moslemens and nominal Christians are in the same position. What is most dreadful to contemplate is the fact that the springs near Jerusalem are drying up. But there is another more terrible calamity still. The locusts are spread over the mountains of Judah and Samaria, in the Valley of Jordan, and in the Plain of Sharon and Galilee, having come to lay their eggs, which will be hatched before the harvest; and as the Arabs say that each couple lays two hundred eggs, countless millions will appear, eating every green thing, poisoning the ground, and thus preventing grass growing for the cattle."

THE human family is so numerous that a birth and a death occur every moment. Every second a child is born; every second some one dies. The prevalence of sickness in the world may be realized in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Laboratory, where medicines are made for all mankind. It would scarcely seem that there are throats enough to swallow the doses he issues daily,—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Ague Cure, and Cherry Pectoral by the thousand gallons and Ayer's Pills literally by the ton. But they must all be wanted or he could not make such quantities for so many years.—Northfield Telegraph.

LUCKY MASSACHUSETTS.—When Ben. Butler dies Massachusetts will not be without a statesman after her own heart. In a late Boston paper we find the following interesting item about the "coming man:" Master Albert Walker, of Cambridge, Mass., last week stole his grandmother's gold ring and all her silver spoons. He then obtained his sister's savings bank book, drew out all her money and proceeded to make merry with a wicked young woman named Elizabeth Brown.

REMEDY FOR EARACHE.—There is scarcely any ache to which children are subject, so bad to bear, and so difficult to cure, as earache. But there is a remedy never known to fail. Take a bit of cotton-batting, put upon it a pinch of black pepper, gather it up and tie it, dip it in sweet oil, and insert it in the ear. Put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm. It will give immediate relief.

The Amendment Celebration.

The negroes of Pennsylvania generally devoted yesterday (April 26) to the formal celebration of the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment. There was nothing in the day which distinguished it from any other in the rolling year, but with a race which has made no record in political or military achievements, the 26th of April will serve their purpose as well as any of those which have been made memorable in the history of other races. The anniversary of a San Domingo massacre, to which alone the negroes can recur, would ill befit the tame celebration of a victory in the accomplishment of which they have struck scarcely a blow. From the abundant preparations made for this day it is quite evident that the negroes have been at more pains to appropriately celebrate the amendment than they have ever been at to achieve it.

The Caucasians have found their highest glory and pride in wresting their own privileges from those who sought to withhold them, and have left posterity to sing the pæns of victory. Having won their franchises with their own good right hands, they have jealously guarded what they so dearly earned. But in this case the fruit has fallen without shaking and is rotten before ripe. The Anglo Saxons made their amendments at Runnymede and Philadelphia, and celebrated them with hard blows on the field of battle. But the careless negroes exult to-day over the possession of a franchise the struggle for which cost them nothing, and which can be lost to them with the same indifference with which it was gained. The Caucasians have built with their own hands the bridges over which they have marched in the conflict for their rights and liberties. They have experienced the truth that the bread of liberty must be earned in bloody sweat. Their indomitable spirit has kept them from permanent subjugation, and has rendered them worthy of the enjoyment of freedom.

But without a struggle, by the accident of a civil conflict in which they had little part, the negroes came into the possession of a franchise which has cost the Anglo Saxons years of revolution and conflict. The negroes gain ignorant enjoyment of the suffrage in the selfish determination of a political party to maintain possession of power, at every hazard to liberty itself. By giving them the privileges of the ballot, the Radicals have degraded it, and given a wider scope for the operations of the demagogues who prey on the prejudices of the ignorant. With the franchise the negroes only change their masters. The same want of spirit which made them slaves through all the centuries in which the Caucasians have been marching to the proudest triumphs of intellect, will keep them slaves, even though they be armed with ballots. The yoke will remain a yoke, whether they obey a master in the Georgia rice-fields, or the decrees of a lodge of loyal leaguers. Instead of enlarging the area of freedom, the Radicals, by admitting the negroes to the suffrage, have made the outposts of liberty only the more difficult of defense. With the newly enfranchised field hands in the numerical superiority in a number of States, it will be hard to defeat the schemes of corrupt demagogues by the most unremitting efforts of the truly patriotic and well-disposed.

While the procession passes, it may not be out of place to once more remind the white citizens that this Fifteenth Amendment has been adopted without the consent of the majority of the people of Pennsylvania. The Legislature which ratified the Fifteenth article was not chosen for that purpose. Many of its members owed their seats to their sturdy denial of any purpose to interfere with the suffrage. In proof of a want of consent on the part of the people of Pennsylvania, it is only necessary to point to the State Constitution. There it stands unaltered, unrepealed, with the word "white" written all over it, because there is not a majority of the citizens of Pennsylvania in favor of this amendment. The Constitution remains, not amended, but trampled under foot, disobeyed and contemned. The negroes exercise the suffrage in defiance of the fundamental law of the people of this State. * * * * * *

That the negroes might be enfranchished white men have been enslaved. State Constitutions have been destroyed without the consent of the people. The rule of the sword has usurped that of the civil magistrate. Greedy and unscrupulous adventurers have been enabled, under the protection of the military, to prey on the misfortunes of a portion of their fellow-citizens. All this that a political party might maintain possession of ill-gotten power by means of the negro vote. For this the jewel of American liberty has been thrown down at the feet of a few hundred thousand negroes utterly ignorant of its inestimable value, heedless of its cost, and indifferent to its use. Let the procession move on.—Harrisburg Patriot.

ALAS, POOR DARKEY!—Forney's Ethiopian organ—the Philadelphia Press—says that the sunburnt Senator from Mississippi—the intellectual Revels—is fading away under the combined attack of "interviewers" and "borers." So many are rushing to shake him by the hand, toy with the tail of his coat, and ascertain his opinion on the great question of possum fat and nigger babies, that the unfortunate colored individual has "nearly prostrated his nervous system." What you laughing at? 'Spose a culled man got no "nervous system?"

A NEW YORK Times special says, it is known here from authoritative sources, that Secretary Fish will withraw from the Cabinet the moment that the St. Domingo treaty is ratified by the Senate, it being a scheme to which he will never give his consent. District Attorney Pierpont will be his successor.

THE WASHINGTON CABINET at a full meeting decided unanimously that it would not be permissible to allow British troops to pass over our soil or through our waters to put down rebellion in the Red River country.

THE recent letter of Governor Haight on the constitutionality of legislative appropriations to railroads has seriously affected the building of the Stockton and Visalia Railroad.

FIRES have been raging in the mountains, to the south-east of Prescott, for some time past. The miners of one camp had to turn out and fight one of these fires, to prevent it from burning up their cabins.

THE YOLO DEMOCRAT.

Saturday, May 14th, 1870.

CHASE COMING.—It is reported that Chief Justice Chase will visit California this summer.

DEAD.—The Davisville Advertiser expired with the issue of Saturday last. Cause, lack of patronage.

WHEAT AND BARLEY.—Good wheat is worth in Woodland to-day, $1 65; choice, $1 70. Barley brings $1 15 to $1 20 per 100 lbs.

PROGRESS.—An Ohio minister of the Gospel, so-called, refused to baptize a child whose parents desired to give it the name of Vallandigham.

THE next Texas Legislature will have two negroes in the Senate and seven in the House. The Mississippi Legislature has twenty-eight colored members.

SPAGUE'S OPINION.—Senator Sprague is of the opinion that the negro voting in Rhode Island will so disgust the people that the State will go Democrattic overwhelmingly next year. This is certain to be the case in every Northern State except Massachusetts and Vermont.

THE COLLEGE DIFFICULTY.—In the public expulsion of a young lady at the College, as mentioned last week, after she had withdrawn from the institution, the Faculty were not sustained by the Trustees and have tendered their resignations. We have not learned whether the resignations were accepted or not.

GREAT DAMAGE BY WATER.—On Sunday night, in San Francisco, some person employed, or stopping at the Lick House left the water-hydrant running in the rooms over Taaffe & Co.'s store. The result was the water overflowed and running down upon the floor, leaked into the store, and falling upon the goods, caused damages to the amount of $20,000.

A HARD HIT.—Mr. Stevenson, of Ohio, complained of the action of the House in refusing a seat to Mr. Sypher, of Louisiana. He says that Mr. Sheldon, from the same State, was admitted, though his opponent had ten thousand majority, yet Sypher, whose opponent had only nine thousand majority, was rejected. That is a fair sample of Radical respect for the voice of the people.

TELLS THE TRUTH.—The Hon. A. P. Edgerton, of Indiana, has been telling some little anecdotes of Radicalism of late, and the following little paragraph is one of the funniest notes which he gets off: "When the late war broke out a good loyal streak came over me, and I lent the Government $100,000 in gold. I have received $300,000 in gold from the Government and still have $100,000 due me."

THE TRIBUNE DISGUSTED.—The New York Tribune is disgusted with the disposition of Congress to keep tinkering at reconstruction. It says: "Let us have done with reconstruction. The country is tired and sick of it. So long as any State is held in abeyance it will be plausibly urged that the Republicans are afraid to trust the people. Let us give every State to herself, and then punish any who violate or defy the guarantees of public and personal rights now fairly imbedded in the Constitution. Let us have Peace!"

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.—From a circular received, we learn that: "In obedience to an Act passed by the last Legislature, the Normal School will be removed to the city of San Jose as soon as suitable buildings are erected for the accommodation of the school. It is not probable that these will be ready before the end of the next school year. The next session will commence in the city of San Francisco on the 1st day of June. All pupils, on entering the school, are to sign the following declaration: 'We, the subscribers, hereby declare that our purpose in entering the State Normal School is to fit ourselves for the profession of Teaching, and that it is our intention to engage in teaching in the Public Schools of this State. To enter the Junior Class male candidates must be seventeen years of age; and female candidates sixteen. To enter the Senior Class they must be one year older."

A Family Medicine.

We call the special attention of our readers to the advertisements of that favorite home remedy, Perry Davis' Pain Killer. It has been before the public over THIRTY YEARS, and probably has a wider and better reputation than any other proprietary medicine of the present day. At this period there are but few unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. No curative agent has had such wide-spread sale or given such universal satisfaction. It is a purely vegetable compound, and perfectly safe, even in unskilled hands.

Grand Gift Concert.

We call especial attention to the great Gift Concert of the Mercantile Library Association of San Francisco, authorized by a special Act of the Legislature, at which $500,000 U. S. gold coin will be returned to the holders of tickets, by distribution by chance. Tickets of admission only $5 in gold, which entitles holders to a chance at 628 gifts, varying from $100 to $100,000, and amounting in the aggregate to $500,000.

Receipts and Expenditures.

The money subscribed and paid in on account of the May-day picnic was $289; the amount expended was $283 50. The overplus, we are informed, was placed to the account of the School Fund. Particulars may be obtained from Mr. Ruggles, who has the account.

Wilson Dramatic Troupe.

This troupe, so well known to our citizens, gave an entertainment at Templar Hall last evening, and will perform again to-night

A PROGRESSIVE PARTY.

The Republican party claims to be a "progressive party." It always goes before the people in political campaigns professing a certain set of principles, and, if successful, almost invariably sets them aside, and acts upon another set which will suit its purposes better, or ignores principle altogether. The platform upon which Grant was elected declared that the regulation of the question of suffrage belonged to the people of the loyal States, but no sooner did reconstruction prove a failure than the party of progress proceeds to strengthen itself by forcing the Fifteenth Abomination upon the country, in order to secure the negro vote. In this their platform is stultified and the right of regulating the suffrage taken from the States. It is an admitted fact on all sides that, in shameless violation of the pledges given in the Chicago Platform, they forced through an amendment to the Federal Constitution by coercion and other unfair and dishonest means. We doubt if a single Southern State would have ratified voluntarily. Persecutions innumerable were heaped upon the people of those States till they were glad to submit to anything, in order to escape the galling yoke fastened upon them. Not only were unwarrantable conditions imposed, but carpet-baggers—Northern scalawags—were sent to govern the people, with sufficient U. S. troops to enforce the scalawag orders. Congress told those States to ratify or remain under military despotism indefinitely. Not even did the Northern States endorse the so-called Amendment fairly, except in two or three instances. States were counted as ratifying which had annulled their previous ratification before the final count. The party of progress was not willing the thing should fail by progressing backward, so whenever there was the slightest plausibility for such a course, the States were counted as ratifying till sufficient "progress" had been made to declare the thing accomplished. A centralized government has been established by the party of progress. Seward's little bell tinkles, and the whole country listens for the imperial decree. The Government issues its mandatory order, none dare to disobey. All Radicalism cries "amen," but too ready to kiss the hand that smites them. This is "progress" with a vengeance. We wait in mute anxiety and dread for the next tinkle of that little bell.

TAXING MONEY SECURED BY MORTGAGE.

The report is current throughout the county that the County Assessor deems it to be his duty, and he has so instructed his Deputies, to list and assess all moneys in Yolo County secured by mortgage. It is further understood that he says he is in possession of no law which authorizes him to do the contrary. We do not propose to enter into a discussion as to the abstract justice of the principle of taxing such moneys, but simply to show the results which must necessarily follow the above course if pursued and insisted on. The first necessary principle for the collection of taxes, in law, is that the assessment shall have been legally made. Now, suppose the Assessor lists and assesses to John Doe $10,000 in real estate, and $10,000 in money secured by mortgage; the latter portion of the assessment is evidently illegal, and if payment is resisted every one knows it cannot be enforced, because the assessment was illegal. It is also a fundamental principle of law that if an obligation is void through willful wrong or fraud in part it is void in the whole. Then it follows that John Doe will avoid payment of all his taxes. Further: if the assessment roll throughout the county can be shown to be illegal and void in one particular, does it not follow as a consequence that it is void all throughout? This may be carrying the doctrine to its fullest extent, yet we are not prepared to say it is not a correct conclusion. It is a point certainly which persons desirous of resisting taxation would avail themselves of, and all corporations, such as banks, railroads, navigation companies, and rich men generally, would be but too glad to avail themselves of. The Assessor may not have in his possession a copy of the law passed by the last Legislature exempting money secured by mortgage from taxation, but that does not shield the Tax Collector from the consequences of an illegal assessment. The highwayman may not have a copy of the law which makes robbery a crime, yet it will hardly be contended that ignorance of the law will shield him from its consequences when violated. Further: it is an evident act of injustice, even if it were legal, to collect taxes on mortgages from the citizens of Yolo County when the citizens of every other county in the State are exempted therefrom. If all the money collected for taxes went into the County Treasury this would be unjust, but when a large portion goes into the State Treasury, the outrage is far greater. We have a direct interest with every citizen of the county, in having the assessment roll of the county legal in every particular, so that taxes may be collected in full from the rich and poor alike. To this end we call upon the Assessor to examine the law, inform himself of its provision, and if in doubt go to the law officer of the State, Attorney-General Hamilton, for advice, which he will cheerfully get if he solicits it. We believe it to be the duty of the Board of Supervisors of the county to take this matter in hand, and instruct the Assessor as to his duty, and above all to see that the assessment as made will stand the tests of the law, so that delinquents can be compelled to pay.

The Railroad Meeting Before the Board of Supervisors.

According to previous announcement, a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors was called on Tuesday last, at the Court House, to determine as to the propriety of ordering an election to decide upon granting aid to the California Pacific Railroad in the construction of the two proposed branch roads from this place out toward Red Bluff, and the other to Capay Valley. There was not a very large turn out, but the matter was discussed with considerable spirit and ability by various gentlemen from different parts of the county. Mr. D. E. Haskin and Senator W. W. Pendegast were present on the part of the R. R. Company, the latter of whom presented the advantages which would accrue to the county from the building of these roads in an eloquent and forcible manner. Senator Minis also favored the building of the roads. Messrs. Brown, Ball and Judge Johnson opposed taxing the people to build railroads. We give below a brief summary of the remarks made by the different speakers:

Mr. Pendegast made the opening speech on the part of the Company, first reading the law passed by the Legislature just before its close (heretofore published), with which it was supposed the Board were familiar. The necessity for the passage of the Act was suggested by the Governor, worse ones having been presented to the Legislature. The bill was not signed by the Governor till a supplemental Act was passed particularizing as to aid to be granted to railroads, etc.; provisions of the Act stated; does not allow donations to more than one Company on the same route. The Company did not desire to force an election, but want the sense of the county on the proposition. The Company was no beggar; but it was not their intention to build these roads unless aid was granted by the people, who were to be benefitted, at least not for a number of years, and if the people decide not to aid them it will be postponed indefinitely. Maps of the routes was in preparation, and it was hoped the Board would not decide as to calling an election until the constitutionality of the law was passed upon by the Supreme Court, by which time said maps would be ready for inspection of the Board. It was proposed to build a road from Woodland to Cacheville, and thence to the county line towards Colusa, a distance of 21 miles; the other line to Capay Valley, 17 miles, and eventually to the western boundary of the county, an addition of 30 miles. The Company, with aid, will go ahead immediately. The gentleman did not propose, at this age, to urge the necessity of railroads, and here followed an eloquent peroration on the advantages to a community of having them pass through the country. Where would Yolo County be without them? Where would Woodland be? Friedlander, the great wheat buyer, who spends millions annually for wheat, had but just become acquainted with our vast agricultural resources. But a short time ago he did not know where Yolo County was; by a recent trip over the California Pacific Railroad he had seen it for himself, and openly proclaimed it the banner wheat county on this side of the bay, if not in the State. This was, to a great extent, effected by the railroads. Solano, Sutter and Yuba had voted aid, but Yolo had refused. The Company can afford to let the new roads go, but can the county afford it? The Red Bluff road would bring us in communication with 100 miles of most magnificent country, and it would be continued on to the Oregon line and into her pine forests. Five years ago it took a day to get from Woodland to Sacramento, 18 or 20 miles, and soon we will be able to go from Portland on the north or Los Angeles on the south in a day or day and a half. This Company propose to submit rates of freights and fares to the Board, and limit itself to less than one-half what the Central Pacific charges. That Company has received aid, and yet when bills are introduced touching rates of freight and passage they invariably find their way into the waste basket. This may be the last chance to secure these roads. It might be that Governor Stanford would present a bill to the Legislature that would pass that body demanding $100,000 aid. Fourteen members of the last Legislature, of which number were himself and our citizen, Hon. M. J. Kelley, had defeated gigantic schemes of this sort. He would not say that this Company would not be tempted to sell out; immense fortunes were made in that way. If such should be the case an immense monopoly would control the railroad interests of the coast—a close corporation—the "family of six." Their stock could not now be bought; California Pacific Railroad stock was in the market and could be bought by any one for 80 cents on the dollar. The speaker believed if all the facts could be known the people of Yolo County would go for the new roads. The difference of expense in one trip per year to San Francisco would pay the tax on the bonds asked. The Company proposed to carry grain at $3 per ton from any part of the county; by any other mode it would cost $6; the difference would more than pay the bonds. The road would cost $13,000 per mile, and the people were asked for $3,000 per mile. The speaker believed it would greatly increase the taxable property, and hence reduce the rate of taxation; it would increase the population of Woodland to 20,000 in five years, and the county would become second in importance to no interior county in the State Opposition views were invited.

Mr. Brown presented remonstrance of citizens, and opposed aiding railroads by taxing the people. He thought every enterprise should stand upon its own bottom; the Company was insincere in its promises; this meeting and the proposed election were ill-timed on account of the harvest, and had been sprung suddenly upon the people, etc.

Judge Johnson asked indulgence of the Board to inquire if the promises made by the Company could be enforced? He thought not, and concurred in the suggestion that the Board should postpone ordering an election. If it was ordered at all the Company should be bound in some way to keep their promises.

Mr. Ball said he had been highly entertained by Napa's noble Senator. He did not accuse the Legislature of honesty—hadn't said so. The noble 14, before mentioned, were entitled to great credit. He asked that the matter be passed upon now, and that the Board vote against calling an election.

Mr. Pendegast replied to Mr. Brown, correcting some statements. He remarked that the Company had done all it promised heretofore; hoped they would not sell to the Central Company, and that they remain independent of that corporation. This side of the bay and river had an independent system of roads. He said the Company had no intention of importing voters, as the Board could prevent it.

Judge Johnson said that it was not businesslike to take the word of any Company or individual; they should be bound in some way. The Judge thought the mass of voters had no right to vote to impose a tax which only the property-owners would be compelled to pay.

Mr. Brown said Mr. Haskin had stated he could and would bring in votes.

Mr. Minis demanded to know what Mr. Haskin, but the gentleman called upon to substantiate did not know; thought he was a railroad man. Mr. Minis said he had no interest whatever in the roads now than any other citizen; none could say the railroad had not been a great benefit to the people. They had fought the road at every fence; if a cow worth $50 was killed a bill was presented for $150. Competition brought down fares. Cited the low rates by railroad and on the river in consequence rates of the California Pacific Railroad.

After some further discussion which was participated in by Judge Johnson, Pendegast, Ball and Minis, the matter was submitted to the Board for consideration.

After a few minutes deliberation the Chairman of the Board, Mr. E. Roberts, announced that the Board had unanimously decided not to call an election.

Thus rests the matter at present, and doubtless the Board expressed in their decision the wishes of a majority of the voters and tax-payers of the county.

Still Another Railroad TO WOODLAND!

THROUGH CAPAY VALLEY.

Owing to the great demand for land in small tracts adjoining Woodland, (having disposed of all my large lots in the Fabricius Tract,) I have procured twenty acres in the south part of Woodland and divided it into

LOTS FROM ONE TO SIX ACRES EACH,

Which I will sell on reasonable terms—one-third down, deferred payments on balance if desired. Fourth street extends to and through the land. It is splendid soil, is easily tilled, and has a good view of the railroad.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER

Has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to Americans. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the missionary and the traveler, on sea and land, and no one should travel on our lakes or rivers without it.

It is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally, and is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

Be sure you call for and get the genuine Pain Killer, as many worthless nostrums are attempted to be sold on the great reputation of this valuable medicine.

☞ Directions accompany each bottle.

Price 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers. my14-1m

SELF-RAKING

REAPER AND MOWER

—AND—

SELF-RAKING REAPER.

Reasons Why

YOU SHOULD USE THIS MACHINE:

First.

No man can rake by hand with the perfection that the NEW YORKER does.

Second.

The Rake is entirely under the control of the Driver, and will rake any size of gavel desired.

Third.

The Machine is Light, requiring but two Horses, and saves extra draft and the expense of one man.

Fourth.

The New Yorker has no superior as a Reaper or Mower, and no equal as a self-Raker, and is warranted in every particular, and to perform well in every capacity, being built upon the only correct principle for a Self-Raker.

Fifth.

The Reaper Cuts Six Feet, the Reaper and Mower Five Feet, and never fails to give satisfaction as a Reaper, a Mower, or Self-Raker, and whenever requisite the change from Reaper to Mower is easily and rapidly effected.

Sixth.

Each Machine is set up at the Factory and worked by steam to see that all runs accurately and easy.

AS A REAPER

This Machine will Cut and Rake from Twelve to Eighteen Acres of Grain per day, and

AS A MOWER,

THE "NEW YORKER"

Cannot be excelled by even those Machines built exclusively for Mowing, and will cut from eight to twelve acres per day.

Cemetery Matters.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: Allow me to occupy a place in your columns, wherein I may refute a few foolish reports now being circulated in this community, regarding our Cemetery and my connection therewith. Some busy intermeddlers, with little regard for truth, have circulated reports to the effect—First, that I am selling lots for $25 and pocketing the money; second, that I charge $5 for digging a grave, when I hire the labor performed for $1; and further, that no person other than myself is permitted to dig a grave; third, that I am, besides these great perquisites, receiving $1,200 per year, simply as compensation for attending to this business. These charges are altogether without foundation, wholly false, from beginning to end, and the parties who first circulated the reports are willfully ignorant of the facts, or else are very much given to misrepresentation. I would not have noticed these base accusations did I not suppose that some well-meaning people might be misled by them, unless they were informed of the facts in the case. Now, a few words regarding our Cemetery: We are all aware that a meeting of the citizens was held, a short time since, when steps were taken toward fencing and improving the grounds. At this meeting it was agreed to appoint a Board of Trustees, who should incorporate under the statutes provided. After they had perfected the incorporation they consulted with many citizens, and decided that the five acres donated by Mr. Morris was insufficient for cemetery purposes. I then proffered five acres additional on certain terms, and which were accepted by the Board. I then gave the Trustees a deed for ten acres, the original five acres being included, as Mr. Morris had deeded them to me for that purpose. I wish the people to understand that I did not sell the Morris lot. I only deeded it to the Trustees, in discharge of the trust reposed in me by Mr. Morris. The plan adopted by the Trustees to raise funds wherewith to pay for the five acres and improve the ground, was this: The ground was to be surveyed into lots, 16x32 feet, and offered for sale at $25 per lot. Purchasers will receive their deeds from the Board. The report concerning the removal of the dead is unfounded. The Trustees have had no such intention. The dead will remain as they now are, unless their friends should see fit to remove them to family lots. Parties interested can at all times have access to the books of the Treasurer, A. C. Ruggles, and from them learn the disposition of the funds intrusted to the Board. In this connection I would remark that I pocket no money but my own. I only dig graves when requested, and parties are free to employ whoever they choose. Five good honest men constitute the Board of Trustees, and peculation under their eyes is impossible. Instead of this proving a profitable speculation on my part, I will pay any man $40 if he will make good the losses I have sustained in connection with my office of sexton. Yours, truly,

J. C. WELCH.

Yolo Bath House.

This establishment is now open for the accommodation of the public under the management of Messrs. Schumacher, Hummel & Co., who have expended a large sum in fitting it up in superior style. A steam engine raises the water into large elevated vats, and also supplies hot water when desired, making the baths equal to those of any city establishment. The plumbing was executed by C. Morin, who can't be beat in that line. A fine shaving and hair-dressing saloon is attached, besides which a ladies' hair-dressing saloon will soon be opened under the management of a sister of one of the proprietors. By reference to the advertisement it will be seen that arrangements have been made for the accommodation of ladies. We bespeak for this bath-house a liberal patronage, which we doubt not it will receive.

Unfortunate Occurrence.

On Saturday last, as the first up train of cars came into town, the shelving in one side of M. Hyman's newly-fitted up store fell in with a great crash, of course throwing down all the goods on that side of the store and doing great damage. We observed bottles of pickles in the show cases among fancy goods, crockery smashed upon the floor, indeed, a general wreck. Mr. Hyman estimates the damages at from $1,000 to $1,200, and thinks the shelves were not properly fastened to the wall of the building. The immediate cause was probably the jar of the passing train of cars, the railroad being but a few yards from that side of the store.

Prize-Fight at Knight's Landing.

A man named Robert Crowe, living at the Landing, and a railroad man, fought a pitched battle on Wednesday last, just across the river, for a stake of $25. Crowe won the stake after fighting nine rounds.

Located in Town.

J. J. Ammons, County Assessor, is now located in Woodland, where parties can find him and arrange their business in regard to assessments.

Cacheville Correspondence.

CACHEVILLE, May 13th.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: It has been some time since I have troubled you with an item from this locality, but having a leisure moment at command I have concluded to give it to the DEMOCRAT.

I have been spending a few days in your beautiful village, called there by order of his Honor James Johnson, your estimable County Judge, and whilst not on duty enjoyed myself in surveying the town, the people and the business prospects.

The village of Woodland, situate about 18 miles west from Sacramento, has every facility to become a flourishing inland city. It strikes me that your town should be incorporated; by so doing the streets would be more cleanly and the sidewalks put in better repair, affording the pedestrian a more sure footing than is now noticed in your orderly village. Your merchants all wear happy faces. They seem to be doing a thriving business, and whether the much-needed rain comes or not they will be happy and content. I notice that the enterprising firm of Fleishman & Kaufman are doing a large business in their line. They are the agents for all the latest and best-improved farming implements from the celebrated establishment of Baker & Hamilton, of Sacramento. Gray & Wood, also, are doing a nice business in the same line. They are the agents for Treadwell & Co., of San Francisco, I believe. Your town seems to be well supplied with all the luxuries of the season, and all seem to be prospering. The California Pacific Railroad certainly has added to, and not taken from Woodland, any of its glory.

Our village is not quite so prosperous, yet we live in hope. The farmers seem inclined to think that most of their grain will do to cut, if not for grain that it will do for hay. The barley prospects are very fine in and around Cacheville. I think I never have seen the prospects better. The wheat will not be so good, but all in all, we will have fair average crops. There are some who will growl; if too much rain, then too wet and no crops; if too dry, then a drouth—a famine, is the word. But, take it all in all, Yolo County takes the lead and the farmers will realize 25 bushels to the acre, where those of the southern counties will scarcely get the seed sown on the land. Our merchants are not discouraged, and I think they have no reason to be. Messrs. White & Hazleton and Freeman & Hall have done a fine business. True, it is generally upon the credit system, yet, in a few months, the debt will be paid and all satisfied.

By the way, I will remark that the citizens of your village should patronize the Railroad Company more than they do. It is generally conceded that the California Pacific Railroad are very enterprising and wish to please their patrons, but for the want of proper encouragement cannot build a suitable depot in Woodland. This, certainly, tells bad for your otherwise prosperous town. I would advise your citizens to ride often, so as to enable the Company to build a respectable depot. The people of Yolo County, and especially those in Woodland and vicinity, have far better accommodations for their chickens than that now in use at Woodland. It is a disgrace to any one connected with the road and should be remedied. There is not a station south of your village but has a fine building, with a nice reception-room for ladies, and I will venture to say that they all, between Woodland and Vallejo, do not patronize the Company as much as your village. More anon.

QUILL DRIVER.

The Crops at Cache Creek.

Our Cache Creek correspondent, writing May 10th, says the hot, dry wind of the last four days has been terrific on the wheat in this section of the county. It is now certain that the late sown wheat cannot amount to much. Summer fallow looks best, and early grain on plowed land will make something. The hay crop is about an average, and barley promises a fair yield—all this provided, of course, that we have no more hot, dry winds. I believe that if we were to have another such wind right off it would ruin effectually the little prospect we yet have left, and judging from the long visages of the farmers I meet, they are of the same opinion. We pray for cool weather, and, if possible, a little rain. I am no prophet, but the future is not bright for full granaries.

Improvement in the Weather.

The weather this week has been cooler and more favorable to crops than last week, with a southerly breeze. To those unacquainted with the peculiarities of this climate, it seems strange that southerly breezes bring the coolest weather, while northerly winds are the warmest and dryest. But so it is; and at this season of the year farmers always dread the north winds.

Religious Notices.

Preaching will be held in the M. E. Church to-morrow (Sunday), at 10½ A. M., by Rev. M. C. Briggs, D. D.

A sermon will be preached by Catharine Schertz on the "Ingathering of Israel for the Redemption of Soul and Body to Enter into Life Eternal," at the Court House, on to-morrow (Sunday), at three o'clock P. M.

School Census.

W. W. Stone has been appointed to take the school census in Woodland. Mr. Stone has gone to Shasta for a few weeks, when he will return and take the census of the district, commencing the middle or last of June. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Stone will probably be re-engaged as Principal of the Woodland District School for another year.

Hot Weather Luxuries.

A. W. Tucker has opened a new ice-cream saloon in the building recently occupied by Cook & Franklin, opposite the College, where that delicious summer delicacy is served up in the best style. Also, cool beverages, suited to the taste and the season.

Strawberry Festival.

The ladies of the M. E. Church, of this place, will hold their Annual Strawberry Festival and Social reunion at Templar Hall, next Friday evening, May 13th. Let the lovers of music and flowers, strawberries and ice-cream remember the time.

Desirable Town Lots.

Nathan Elliott offers town lots, from one to six acres each, on easy terms and at low prices. Read his advertisement, "Still Another Railroad."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The effect of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, even when taken for its cathartic properties, are very different from those of any other medicine prepared specially for that purpose.

There is no nausea or disturbance of the stomach, and instead of causing any sense of languor, or debility, it seems rather to invigorate the whole system, and excite the keenest appetite.

Business men, worn by care and sedentary habits, often suffer from constipation of the bowels, until the evil consequences of such a condition are realized in extreme debility, nervousness and prostration of the vital energies of the system; and it may be safely asserted that a majority of the female sex are little better than invalids, from the same cause; but by using Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, this natural aperient and tonic brings back the vigor and bouyancy of health.

An exchange says: "The surprising curative efficacy of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, in a great variety of chronic diseases, especially those which prove obstinate, and incurable by ordinary treatment, cannot be explained. Nature, aided by art, has here provided a rare combination of medicinal properties, wisely adapted to the cure of diseases common to all mankind."

Obituary Resolutions.

At the annual meeting of the Trustees of Hesperian College, for the year 1870, it was ordered by the Board that the following tribute of respect be placed upon the College records:

WHEREAS, Since our last annual meeting, it has pleased the Almighty Disposer of events to remove from our midst two of our members, viz.: Dr. J. P. Blanks and Major J. F. Thompson; therefore, be it

Resolved, First—That while we deeply deplore the loss of men so gifted, so generous, so noble and so pure, we do, as we must, bow in humble acquiescence to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Second—We take comfort in the confident assurance that our deceased friends and fellow-laborers in the cause of education have but been called from the scene of their earthly labors to "the rest that remains for the people of God."

Third—That in the death of these most estimable Christian gentlemen Hesperian College has lost two of its most influential and devoted friends, the Church has lost two of its most worthy and faithful members, the community has lost two of its most honored and useful citizens, and their families have sustained an irreparable loss.

Fourth—That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved families of our deceased brethren, and beg leave to suggest to them "that they sorrow not as those who have no hope." That, "while sorrow may remain for the night, joy will come in the morning."

Fifth—That a copy of the foregoing be handed to the editors of THE YOLO DEMOCRAT and Yolo Mail for publication, and that the Grass Valley and Lake County papers and the Sacramento Union and Sacramento Reporter be requested to copy; and, also, that the Secretary of the Board of Trustees be required to furnish to each of the families of the deceased a copy of these resolutions.

f12-3m GRAY & WOOD.

Believing that every man should be held personally responsible for whatever he offers to the public as an antidote for any existing evil, and that no honest man can, for the sake of gain, offer as a remedy that which may prove an injury, we shall say no more than we believe to be strictly true, and easily proved, in relation to the merits of

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup!

We have known it for many years as a valuable remedy in all Pulmonary Complaints. It has been given to a great number of persons, old and young, male and female, and it can be truly said that rarely, if ever, was known a single instance in which it has not effected a speedy cure of the most violent cold or long-seated cough; and, in case of Asthma, whooping-cough, sore throat, or any affection of the throat or lungs, we have yet to hear of the first instance in which it has not afforded entire satisfaction. We do not pretend to say that

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup

Is a remedy for "all the ills that flesh is heir to," but we do say that, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, it has been found to be a safe, pleasant, and sovereign remedy for the most violent cold, long-neglected cough, sore throat, asthma, whooping-cough, or any affection of the throat or lungs arising, as almost all such complaints do, from what is at first considered nothing but a "slight cold"—the final consequences of which need not be pointed out. Prominent, however, among the ills thus engendered, is that of Consumption, for which it is said there is no remedy, and perhaps there is not. But if

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

Which we so strongly recommend, be a remedy for such complaints as we have enumerated, what effect will it have upon that scourge of the human race, CONSUMPTION? We answer, it will be to afford its victims immediate relief! It will check the ever-accompanying cough; this done, refreshing sleep is sure to follow, and, in its train, increase of strength, a brighter eye, a more cheerful countenance—and, why not a restoration to health? CURE YOUR COLD while it is yet what you consider but a slight one, and you will have less occasion to seek a remedy for any of the countless ills so sure to follow from it when too long neglected. Cure it in your children, instead of allowing them to retire to their beds night after night with a SLIGHT COLD, from which almost every family has had sad experience; they too often rise with headache, sore throat, or fever.

A kind Providence has placed at the disposal of His intelligent creatures, all the remedies requisite for the relief of such diseases as He permits to afflict mankind. Among the gravest in this category are those of the CHEST and LUNGS. A thorough and patient investigation into the character and treatment of these affections, has resulted in the selection and approval, by the more intelligent of the present day,

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

The use of which is synonymous with speedy relief and health. Consumptives, try it! For sale by all Druggists.

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup,

Should be resorted to on the slightest indication of a cough, cold or asthma.

THE YOLO DEMOCRAT.

THE FARMER.

Of all pursuits by man invented,
The farmer is the best contented;
His profits good, his calling high,
And on his labors all rely.

By him are all mechanics fed,
Of him the merchant seeks his bread;
His hand gives meat to everything,
E'en from the beggar to the king.

Milk and honey, corn and wheat,
Are by his labors made complete;
Our clothes from him must first arise
To deck the fop or dress the wise.

Then we by vote may justly state,
That farmers rank among the great;
More independent they, than all
That dwell upon this earthly ball.

All hail! ye farmers! young and old
Push on your plows with courage bold!
Your wealth arises from your sod,
Your independence from your God.

If, then, the plow support the nation,
And men of rank of every station,
Let kings to farmers make a bow,
And every man procure a plow.

A NEW invention for screwing on the soles of boots has been exhibited in Sacramento. The screw is made, inserted in the boot sole and clenched by one operation. The French machine for the same purpose costs $400. This only costs $75.

GOVERNOR ENGLISH, of Connecticut, was inaugurated on the 4th inst. He recommends such legislation as will facilitate the operation of the Fifteenth Amendment, although he expresses the opinion that the ratification was accomplished in many cases by fraud.

As daylight can be seen through small holes, so little things will illustrate a person's character. Indeed, character consists in little acts, habitually and honorably performed; daily life being the quarry from which we build it up and rough hew the habits that form it.

THE Southern States are beginning to cultivate China grass to be used as a substitue for silk. A machine and process for its preparation have already been patented. The Louisiana planters have raised the most of this grass, but they sell it in London, where it is worked into what are called Japanese silks.

FOR a cough roast a large lemon very carefully, without burning it; when it is thoroughly hot, cut and squeeze it into a cup, upon three ounces of sugar, finely powdered. Take a spoonful whenever your cough troubles you. It is as good as it is agreeable to the taste. Rarely has it been known to fail of giving relief.

THE excess of men over women in Ohio is 40,000; in Michigan 40,000; in California, 133,000; why don't some of our Eastern capitalists organize a Sorosian Emigration Society, for the benefit of certain spinsters who follow in the Train of the Irish-American-Woman's Rights Flannel Shirt candidate for the Presidency?

IOWA is larger than New York or Pennsylvania, larger than New England without Maine, and more productive than all of them put together. Although less than five million are under cultivation, they produced last year eighty-five million bushels of grain.

A SPECIMEN of the plant, "the flower of the Holy Ghost," has been successfully raised in Norwich, Connecticut. The flower is a creamy white cup, nearly as large as half an egg, and extremely beautiful, and its wonder as a natural floral growth is the fact, that in this flower is a pure white dove, with pink bill and eyes, and its head turned as if looking over its back. Its feet, wings, bill, etc., are as absolutely perfect as those of the living dove whose counter this wonderful mimic bird is.

THE Central Park in New York, already one of the most beautiful parks in the world, is to have a new attraction in the shape of a grand museum of history, antiquities and art. The Park Commissioners have set apart for the purpose a piece of ground within the inclosure. Several buildings are to be erected, and the museum will be found on the most liberal scale. The historical, scientific and art societies of the city have cordially united in the movement, and it is evident that it will be a great success.

GOVERNOR BULLOCK, of Georgia, on his return home from Washington, took military possession of an entire sleeping car from Chattanooga to Atlanta, compelling the other passengers to sit up all night. The Governor was travelling in imperial style, being attended by one officer and twenty men, armed, equipped and uniformed as United States troops. Four men and the officer stood guard in the inside of the car, and two men were stationed at each door; the other men were in the car adjoining. He was afraid of being Ku-Kluxed.

SUBSOIL AS A FERTILIZER.—If there are many who doubt or are disposed to depreciate the value of our valley subsoil as a fertilizer, "he who runs may read" a demonstration of the fact while passing at express train speed over the railroad between this city and Sacramento. All along the road, wherever there are shallow excavations from which the intermingled surface and subsoil have been thrown up to form the embankment, the track is fringed by a tall, vigorous, luxuriant, deep green growth of wild oats, while on the adjacent uncultivated or shallow plowed lands the growth is sparse, sickly and stunted, and presents a parched and faded appearance. The contrast is that between a desert and a richly manured garden, and leaves no room to question the value of the subsoil for enriching land, and for the attraction and retention of moisture.—*Stock. THE HOWE MACHINE CO.'S

WORLD RENOWNED

SEWING MACHINES!

Paris Exposition Universelle, 1867,

TWO GRAND PRIZES,

Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor,

To ELIAS HOWE, JR., as the inventor; and Gold Medal for the best Sewing Machine!

The Highest Honors Ever Conferred for Sewing Machines.

This Machine has long been regarded as the standard of excellence, and has become celebrated the world over. The work done by these Machines is unsurpassed—sewing the thinnest muslin or the thickest cloth, with equal facility; and requiring no extra adjusting for uneven thickness or passing over seams; it turns its own hem as it sews, sewing a seam stronger than the fabric itself. To see it hem, fell, tuck, braid, cord, quilt and gather, it seems more like a thing of life than a machine moved by the will of the operator. It is capable of doing every description of sewing that is required in a family; and also for seamstresses and dressmakers it will be found invaluable. They seldom, or never give any trouble in operating, and in a word, are the most satisfactory Sewing Machines in use.

Notwithstanding their great superiority, they are sold at prices as low as other first-class machines.

A Medallion likeness of Mr. Howe is embedded in the plates of every Howe Machine, without which none are genuine. Every purchaser of a Sewing Machine should inquire for ELIAS HOWE, JR.'S SEWING MACHINE, and if they are not sold in their vicinity, address the General Agency for Illustrated Circulars, etc., and do not purchase until you have thoroughly investigated these renowned machines.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINES!

The FLORENCE has now been used on the Pacific Coast seven years; its merits are known and its reputation established.

It is here in daily use in more than six thousand homes, and is effectually speaking for itself like

"Gold Tried in the Fire!"

Competition and opposition—fair and unfair, have not consumed or injured it. It stands the practical test upon a greater range of work than any other Family Sewing Machine in use.

If there is a Florence Machine within one thousand miles of San Francisco not giving entire satisfaction, if informed of it, I will attend to it promptly, without expense of any kind to the owner.

Shoemakers, Tailors and Glove makers are invited to examine our New Florence Manufacturing Machine.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

— FOR —

Diseases of the Throat & Lungs,

Such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat that the most obstinate yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and in all the affections which arise from malarious, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does cure, and does not fail. Containing neither arsenic, quinine, bismuth, zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking this Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

NEW WEED SEWING MACHINES!

"The Last and Best!"

The following is the fac-simile of the Medal awarded to the WEED Sewing Machines at the late Paris Exposition:

The Weed Sewing Machine Company have now at last completed their Three Standard styles of Weed Sewing Machines.

First—Their new "Family Favorite." Second—Their new, light and noiseless Manufacturers' Sewing Machine. Thirdly—Their immense heavy "Manufacturers' Favorite." The three together combining the advantages of all others up to the present time, being the BEST made and doing the best work—has received throughout Europe, the States, and on this coast, the First and Highest Premium at each and every public Fair since 1867 (the year it was completed,) where any premium at all has been given or where its strong points have been really exhibited.

There is a difference!—All the Premiums that the WEED Sewing Machine Company claim, from the first and Highest Premium at the Great World's Fair at Paris, in 1867, up to the present time, (see small circulars), are each and every one genuine awards, or we will forfeit $500 for each and every false claim! Other Sewing Machines have had their Premiums, but how many of them in the last two years?

There is a difference! Says the True Chronicle: "This magnificent Sewing Machine comes forward in good time and strikes exactly the right mark." Also, the editor of the Independent says: "Such a Sewing Machine as the Weed—the New F. F.—we have never seen." Thus the New Weed Sewing Machine is the simplest and strongest, the last, and as we believe in modern improvement we may add the BEST Sewing Machine made as yet. It is the best Family Sewing Machine; it is the best Boot, Tailor, Saddler's Sewing Machine; it is the most successful Sewing Machine; for already its name is a household word both in Europe and America, and is rapidly taking the place of all others. Its immense central manufactory is in Hartford, Connecticut. Agents in all the principal cities in the world.

Price, from $65 to $500.

Bear testimony to the wonderful curative effects of

Dr. Joseph Walker's CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS!

Manufactured from the native Herbs and Roots of California.

The Great Blood Purifier!

For Inflammatory and chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.

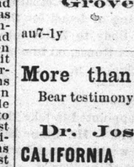

"The life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof." Purify the Blood and the health of the whole system will follow. It is a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic.

These Bitters are not a gilded Pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and destroyed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Hair Dressing,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WHEELER & WILSON.

THE GREAT TRIAL OF

SEWING MACHINES!

THE GRANDEST IN THE WORLD!

The Judges, the whole world; and the trial, fifteen years duration.

Practical Use the Test!

THE UNIVERSAL VERDICT:

"The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine the Champion!"

As a Holiday Present, nothing would be more appreciated than one of these Machines.

These unequalled Machines do all the different kinds of work required to be done in a family, and make all the different kinds of Stitches, without the complications of the other Machines.

All persons will please examine the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine before purchasing any other.

The Wheeler & Wilson as is well known, has won at nearly every trial in which it has competed, the highest award of merit. The representatives of other machines, ever confident, have entered the lists, time and again, only to be defeated; and finding it impossible to compete fairly, have endeavored to decry the value of Premiums. They are not slow, however, to boast of the few they have received. But in the grand trial, daily use throughout the world, where only true merit finds favor, and superiority wins the race, the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine stands triumphantly the champion by the verdict of the people.

These Machines are adapted to every Variety of Sewing!

From the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths. They work equally well upon Silk, Linen, Woolen or Cotton goods, with Silk, Linen or Cotton thread; Seaming, Quilting, Gathering, Hemming, Felling, Cording, Tucking, Braiding Embroidering and making Button Holes, with the greatest facility.

If it be inconvenient for the purchaser to visit the salesroom, the order may be forwarded to the office, and it will be as faithfully filled as if the selection had been made personally.

Full instructions, recently compiled, and giving full information upon every point in detail, accompany each Machine, and enable the most inexperienced to operate without difficulty.

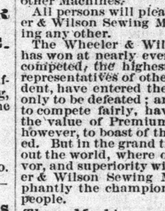

Our interest in the successful working of Machines is not second to that of the purchaser, and we esteem it a privilege to aid, by correspondence or otherwise, any person requiring it.

THE ELLIPTIC SEWING MACHINE,

Warranted the Best!

The Elliptic Sewing Machines are manufactured and warranted by the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company. The late and important improvements enable us to guarantee to every purchaser that the Elliptic Machine will do more work, better work, and a greater variety of work than any other Sewing Machine now in use. The economy of the Elliptic Machine in a family is almost incredible; with one, a good operator can do the work of twelve hands. By it, the making of garments is reduced from a question of hours to one of minutes, as the following table will show:

(It is not to be understood that the following table is the time to make garments, but to do the stitching only.)
